

Wow! LSE students really enjoy playing games on their mobile device!

You'll most likely find 62% of LSE students playing games on their mobile devices. 8% of those students have spent 5 or more hours playing games on their mobile device!

75% of LSE students own a mobile device.

100% of LSE parents own a mobile device.

Hmmm. What an interesting fact. 65% of LSE students got their first phone when they were 9 years or younger, while almost 30% of the LSE community's parents got their first phone when they were 20-25 years old.

41% of LSE students think texting is less convenient than calling, while 43% of teens say texting is the main reason for getting a phone.

Would you purchase a phone for your 9 yr. old?

Read: April 8, 2013

That information leads me to believe that owning a cellphone at a young age is beginning to increase in the LSE community.

Sources:

Student Survey

<http://www.surveymonkey.com/s/67Y7VFR>

Parent Survey

<http://www.surveymonkey.com/s/69Y3FTH>

Teen Data Usage Article

<http://teacherpress.ocps.net/deirdrekelly/files/2013/02/nielsen-phone-use1.pdf>

glogtroy031113

by misskellyocps

Copyright © Glogster 2013,

glogster.com & edu.glogster.com

Best Glog
performance with

