

Right-Side Left-Side Note Taking

Main Idea Questions Wonders Connections Ideas/Theories Cause/Effect

	○	○		○
One person can have a big effect on the world.					Thomas Edison
Being the youngest of 7 lead him towards being an inventor because he had lots of time to do things he liked.					Biographical Information:
Back then, did all kids work at such a young age?					- 1847 - born; youngest of 7; 1931 - died
					- 1859 - job on railroad selling stuff
					- 1866 - married; 1871- remarried
Why didn't they like it that he asked so many questions?					A Great Mind:
Did people always expect big things from him after that?					- asked too many questions; home schooled
Asked too many questions → kicked out of school					- brave - saved station master's son
Did he love what he was doing or did he have to work 18 hours?					- never gave up - 1 st success/sale in 1870
Thomas Edison AND A lifeguard					- worked 18 hours a day
Thomas Edison AND Mozart					Accomplishments:
Which invention was Edison's favorite?					- 1 st patent @ 22 y.o.; total = 1,093 patents
Did he learn Morse Code on his own?					- electric light bulb; phonograph; movies w/ sound
Menlo Park, NJ was proud that such a brilliant man lived there.					- 15 y.o. - own newspaper; telegraph operator
Did Edison have anyone to give his work to when he died?					- 1869 - 1 st invention; 1933 = last invention
					- 1876 - laboratory; Menlo Park, NJ; called:
Being an inventor is a good thing to be.					"The Wizard of Menlo Park"
Laboratory in basement as a kid → becoming an inventor
How did Edison lose his hearing?					Interesting Info.:
					- kid - laboratory in basement
					- became deaf - wife did Morse Code on knee
					- worked all night, slept all day