The screenshot shows the Orange County Library System website. At the top, there is a navigation bar with links for 'Library Catalog', 'OCLS Site', 'I Want To...', and 'Resources by Interest'. A search bar is present with a 'Search' button. Below the navigation bar, there are links for 'Home', 'Get Your Card', 'OCLS Social', 'Locations', 'About Us', 'Jobs', 'Contact Us', 'Donate', 'Site Map', and 'Confused?'. The main content area is titled 'Virtual Library » Online Databases'. A red arrow points to the 'Log in to My Account' link in the left sidebar. Below this link, there are several menu items: 'Renew Titles', 'Request Items', 'E-mail Notices', 'Book a Meeting Room', and 'My Class Calendar'. The main content area contains text about Lynda.com, stating it is an educational resource with video tutorials. It also mentions that the service can be costly but is free for library cardholders. At the bottom of the page, there is a footer with the Orange County Library System logo and contact information.

Enter Last Name, Library Card Number and PIN. Click Submit.

The screenshot shows the login form on the Orange County Library System website. At the top, there is a warning message: 'Library Not Impacted by "Heartbleed" Vulnerability - Our organization is aware of the OpenSSL "Heartbleed" vul...'. Below this, there is a 'Message to AOL, Yahoo, and Road Runner users.' section. The main heading is 'Log in to My Account'. Below this, there is a form with the following fields: 'Last Name', 'Library Card Number: (A "P" followed by nine numbers)', and 'Library Card PIN'. There are also links for 'Forgot your PIN?' and 'Create or Change a PIN'. A red arrow points to the 'Submit' button. At the bottom of the form, there is a note: 'If you have a question related to your library card account or are unable to enter your card number in the login form, please e-mail Circulation with your name and card number. If you need assistance with the catalog, please e-mail Help Desk.' Below the form, there is a section for 'OCLS Extras' with links for 'Donate now!', 'Subscribe to our eNewsletters.', and 'Be Internet Safe'.

1. It may prompt you to log in again and it will then take you to the site OR
2. It will take you to Lynda.com

The screenshot shows the Lynda.com website interface. At the top, the Lynda.com logo is on the left, and the user is logged in as "Hi, lynda.com user" on the right. Below the header is a navigation bar with "Browse the library" and a search box containing "Find courses, authors, and more...".

The main content area is divided into two columns. The left column is titled "New courses" and features a grid of course cards. Each card includes a play button icon, a date, and the course title. The courses listed are:

- 04/23/14: Building a Note-Taking App for iOS 7
- 04/23/14: Up and Running with Arduino
- 04/23/14: Mograph Techniques: Creating a Flat Vector look using C4D and After Effects
- 04/22/14: Hand-Drawn Animation in Flash
- 04/22/14: Designs dekeConstructed: Your Own Online Avatar
- 04/22/14: Drawing Vector Graphics: Patterns
- 04/21/14: OmniGraffle 6 Essential Training
- 04/21/14: Influencing Others
- 04/21/14: Up and Running with Mathematica 9

At the bottom of the course grid, there is an RSS icon and a pagination link "1-9 of 41 | next »".

The right column is titled "10-minute tips" and features a list of short tips, each with a play button icon:

- Management Tips: Apr 23: Fighting bureaucracy
- Google Analytics Tips: Apr 23: Test driving the API in 5 minutes
- Small Business Secrets: Apr 22: Setting prices for services and products
- Deke's Techniques: Apr 22: Auto-hiding iconic panels in Photoshop
- Pro Video Tips: Apr 22: Supplies to get to hide lav mics

Below the tips is a "blog" section with a post titled "Choose a Web CMS (WordPress, Drupal, or Joomla!)" by Lauren Mackenzie, dated 4/23/14. The post snippet reads: "Can't decide which web content management system (CMS) suits your needs? Contrast the three most popular open-source options - WordPress, Joomla!, and Drupal, today on the blog. Read more..."

At the bottom of the page, there is a "Creative Inspirations" banner with a dropdown menu labeled "Choose your Inspiration:" and the text "documentaries on creative pros".

You now have access to Lynda.com!
