This helps us cut down on paper copies and makes the Homework Log even more accessible (it's always available in cyberspace, even when your child loses it!). I usually try to post the next week's Homework Log by late Friday afternoon so you can get a little sneak peak of what's ahead and plan your busy week. It is your choice to save the Homework Log on your computer or print a hard copy to place in the "Homework" section of the KOALA Book (a good option for students who attend after school programs). If for any reason you need a hard copy of the Homework Log, please let me know and I will be happy to print a copy for your child each week.
